WINEMAKING

The Riesling grapes were machine harvested in the cool of the morning to ensure retention of the pure varietal fruit flavours and natural acid. The berries were left to cold soak on skins for a few hours to enhance colour and allow some phenolic extraction for added texture. The berries were then pressed gently, the juice floated, and then inoculated with a carefully selected aromatic yeast strain. Ferment was set at 14 degrees, taking a couple of weeks to complete, ensuring the pure fruit characters were protected.

FOOD PAIRING

Ceviche of scallops, octopus and snapper with chilli and lime

VINTAGE NOTES

Pipers River is situated in the north of Tasmania. The cool climate, rich fertile soil, gentle rains and long sunny days enable us to grow and produce some of the best wines in the world. A strong maritime climate provides protection from the extremes, but is surprisingly frost prone. Other measures are required to help reduce the risk of frost during the growing period.
